'Brownie Night' Includes Play

It was "Brownie Night" Monday, Feb. 28 as Troop 322 took part in a play and flag ceremony for their parents and friends at Memorial United Methodist Church.

The play concerned a typical Brownie meeting with Gina George and Sharon Taylor as "troop leaders". Gina filled in for Pam Mack, who has been hospitalized and was unable to attend.

In true Brownie fashion, Lori Wooten also filled in as a color guard member to replace Angela Woods who was unable to be present. Other color guard members: Wendy Lee, Susan George and Tammy Jamerson.

Laurie Avery made the introduction for the evening and was part of the refreshment committee, including Jill Franklin, Lori Wooten and Angela Ferguson, who prepared decorations, flowers for the stage and other details. For everyone there were name tags, Brownie hats, decorated programs and brownies and punch.

Hostesses were Wanda Slough, Cindy O'Brien, Elizabeth Coffey, Donna Elder. Brownies in the play included Mary Lee Bryant, Beverly Coleman, Robin Bollinger, Cathy Lewis, Brenda Coleman, Donna Blazer, Kim Wade, Susan Shorter, Donna Guill, Sharon Archer, Sherry Martin, Darlene Howard, Terry Robinson, Gloria Ferguson and Cynthia Lawthorne, who said grace.

Troop leaders are Mrs. Peggy Clark, Mrs. Gail Flint with Mrs. Rachel Lee as assistant.

Schampel Accepts Auto Challenge

"I am 18 and I hate American cars" announced a young reader of a national magazine, "Motor Trends". An Appomattox resident, Ed Schampel, happens to feel differently about American cars and took up the challenge last week in Washington, D.C.

A Buick dealer offered a $7,000 Electra to the younger driver to test drive. Schampel was offered a new Citroen with testing done under supervision of General Testing Laboratories, both drivers being given the opposite type of car of their preference.

Schampel reports that the Citroen developed mechanical trouble and could not even complete the planned comparisons. "I still like American cars better," he said on his return, noting that had an American car developed trouble, it probably could have been repaired and put back on the road much sooner. The whole idea of the challenge started an exchange of letters in the "Letters To the Ed" section of "Motor Trend."

The May issue of the magazine will carry details of the American made vs foreign car comparison.

Career Women Speak To Jr. FHA

Charlene Rush and Gay Honeycutt far left) asked the questions as the Jr. FHA at Appomattox Intermediate School heard from career choices from local women actively involved in various professions. Panelists at the Thursday meeting, Feb. 24 were (from left) Mrs. Sarah Elliott, secretary at the Intermediate School; Mrs. June Chenault, bank teller, Fidelity National Bank; Mrs. Nancy Jones, science teacher; Mrs. Bowling Carter, guidance counselor and Mrs. Margaret Shields, registered nurse. Also on the panel, Mrs. Martha Stimpson (not shown), Times-Virginian news editor. The club was told that almost everyone changes jobs at least three times during a lifetime and that "flexibility" is important when circumstances call for a change in jobs.

HOW TO LOSE AND WIN IN THE SAME EVENING

Jane Garrette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Garrette and a student at VPI-SU was a featured contestant Sunday evening on WSLS, TV's "Club Quiz" with Hayden Huddleston, emcee. Jane's side failed to win the most points, but she introduced her group and was complimented by Huddleston both for her presentation and her pleasing appearance on TV.

Brownies and punch --- served by Brownies, of course, as part of a special night Monday at Memorial United Methodist Church. Parents were invited to a play, color guard ceremony and refreshments being served here by Mrs. Peggy Clark, co-troop leader and troop members.
